AL	H 658	Immigration Law	In 2012, Alabama revisited its 2011 omnibus legislation, HB 56. HB 658, enacted May 18, revised a number of provisions, including law enforcement, business/public records transactions, driver's license/IDs, employment/E-Verify, harbor/transport/rental agreements. Law Enforcement: Citizens can no longer bring legal action regarding immigration enforcement but must instead file a petition with the local district attorney or Attorney General. Business/ public records transactions: HB658 amends the 2011 provision that made it a felony for an alien not lawfully present to enter into business transactions with government. Business transaction is redefined as public records transaction and includes applying for or renewing a motor vehicle license plate, a driver's license or nondriver identification card, a business, commercial, or professional license. It does not apply to a marriage license or housing. Employment/E-Verify: Contractors and subcontractors must participate in the E-Verify system; however, prime contractors are not liable for their subcontractor complying with E-Verify unless they know of the violation. Harboring/Transport/Rental Agreements: deletes the provision defining harboring as a rental agreement with an illegal immigrant.
